
CQP Competency-Based Exam National Insolvency (CNIE) – Attempt Policy

Candidates are allowed three attempts to pass the Competency-based National Insolvency examination (CNIE). Candidates who fail three times will be required to reapply to the CIRP Qualification Program as if they were a new candidate/applicant. Candidates must meet the current CQP admission requirements for their application to be approved.

Candidates may not apply for a one-time challenge at the CNIE. Candidates who fail three times will have to complete all courses, assignments and pre-requisites to be eligible to challenge the CNIE.
