

Professional Conduct Complaint Form

As the professional association for insolvency and restructuring professionals, CAIRP's Professional Conduct Committee (PCC) receives and responds to written complaints about our members. The PCC cannot assess your complaint until you have submitted a Complaint Form. We will assess every complaint we receive, although some complaints will be closed without an investigation. If this is the case, we will inform you in writing of the reason for closing your complaint.

Complaints the PCC Will Investigate

The PCC deals with a range of professional conduct matters. Examples include ethics or honesty, communications (including failure to reply to communications or to report on a transaction), unreasonable delays, misleading, rude and discriminatory behaviour, or failure to account for, or the improper handling of, money or property.

The PCC may also investigate complaints regarding advertisements by CAIRP members.

Complaints the PCC Will NOT Investigate

We cannot investigate every type of complaint. Some of the reasons we might close a complaint without conducting an investigation are:

- The individual you are complaining about is not a member of CAIRP.
- There is not enough information to support your complaint.
- We don't have the legal authority to act on your complaint.
- You have already complained about the member and your complaint was closed.
- There are ongoing proceedings against the member in another forum, such as another organization's investigation, or court proceedings.
- There are other resources or services that would be more appropriate for resolving your complaint.

Results of a PCC Investigation

Please note that under no circumstances will any financial compensation be awarded to the Complainant.

Please read carefully the following extract from CAIRP's bylaws. It sets out what may happen if the PCC decides that a complaint warrants an investigation.

26.13 After notifying the member of the complaint and giving the member thirty (30) days to respond to the complaint in writing, the Professional Conduct Committee may do one or more of the following:

- (a) direct that the matter be referred, in whole or in part, to the Discipline Committee;
- (b) direct that the matter not be referred to the Discipline Committee;
- (c) formally caution or admonish the member;
- (d) direct the member to successfully complete a specified continuing education and remediation program;
- (e) negotiate a settlement agreement between the Association and the member and refer the agreement to the Discipline Committee for approval;
- (f) with the consent of the member, reprimand the member;
- (g) with the consent of the member, require the member to pay a fine to the Association of up to $10,000;
- (h) with the consent of the member, require the member to pay to the Association the costs of investigating and determining the complaint; or
- (i) take any action that it considers appropriate in the circumstances that is not inconsistent with the bylaws.

CAIRP and its members are committed to professionalism, trustworthiness and objectivity.

L'ACPIR et ses membres misent sur le professionnalisme, la confiance et l'objectivité.

You may also wish to file a complaint with the Office of the Superintendent of Bankruptcy (OSB). The OSB is the federal government regulator for Licenced Insolvency Trustees (AKA Trustees in Bankruptcy). For more information, visit the OSB's website at www.osb.ic.gc.ca.

Confidentiality

The PCC treats all complaints and investigations as confidential unless the matter is referred to the Discipline Committee as a result of an investigation. To ensure that our process meets the appropriate standard for a professional body, the PCC follows a transparent and fair procedure. This means that the member must be given notice of your complaint and an opportunity to respond to it. We may share with the member some or all of the information you provide to us, including your name.
